LAB DIRECTIVE

Unfortunately, each insurance company contracts with a lab where your specimen can be run (such as pap smears, biopsies, etc.) We try to keep track of which insurance uses which labs but it is impossible because they change all the time and do not notify physicians. Some insurances use different labs depending on if you have PPO, HMO, etc. It is virtually impossible to keep up. We ask that you take responsibility to know which lab your particular insurance wants your specimen sent to. If you do not know today, you can call and find out before the doctor sees you.

If you already know which lab your insurance uses, check below:

"Please forward my lab work/pap/specimen/biopsy to the following lab":

- Quest
- Lab One
- Labcorp
- Wuesthoff
- Health First

I understand that if my choice is incorrect, I am financially responsible for the bill that the lab sends me. That bill would not be generated by Dr. Badolato's office, it would be a bill generated by the lab. Any questions regarding that bill should be directed to the lab itself.

Thank you for your understanding concerning this issue.
